

30th International Conference on Low Temperature Physics

7-13 August 2025, Bilbao, Spain

Sponsorship Prospectus

Organizing Committee for the LT30

Message from the LT30 Co-Chairs

We would like to announce the 30th International Conference on Low Temperature Physics (LT30), which will take place in Bilbao (Spain), from August 7 to August 13 2025.

Following the long tradition of this conference, which is held only every three years under the auspices of the International Union of Pure and Applied Physics, we expect the participation of major stakeholders in the broad field of low temperature physics. The meeting will be fully in-person.

2025 being the year of Quantum Sciences and Technologies, the meeting is a great opportunity to address the whole scope of low temperature physics, from applications of quantum science, through instruments for low and very low temperatures, to fundamental advances. The subfields addressed in the conference are:

- Quantum gases, fluids and solids
- Superconductivity
- Magnetism and quantum materials
- Nanophysics and topological matter
- Quantum information and technologies
- Cryogenic techniques and applications

We expect more than 1000 participants in an interdisciplinary gathering. We will make all in our hands to offer the best possible services and guarantee the participation of every possible interested researcher.

We are convinced that this unique meeting is an excellent opportunity to promote your products and activities. Your support can enhance the visibility of your company among a thriving group of scientists, deeply routed in the fruitful interaction between engineering and fundamentals which characterizes low temperature physics.

With this letter, we kindly ask you to cooperate to the success of this important meeting.

We send you our best wishes for success in your activities.

Best regards,
